Summary of reasons for decision:

The image depicts a nude boy who is strongly sexualised by the way he has been photographed, which focuses the viewer's attention on his immature physical and sexual development. The image is classified as objectionable because it exploits the nudity of children to such a degree that its availability is likely to be injurious to the public good. The objectionable classification interferes with the right to freedom of expression as set out in the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990, but is reasonable and justified in order to prevent injury to the public good.
